

Novel Studies Available

The teacher and each student will need a copy of the novel being studied and a student workbook.

Often, there are different versions of the novels available. This may affect the page numbers of where the discussion questions are asked during the guided story reading. All novel studies in Reading for Success are written to accompany unabridged versions of the novels. If the page numbers of the version that your school has chosen differs, you will need to change the page numbers in the Teacher Presentation Book to match your version. This will not affect your ability to successfully complete the novel student with your students. The lesson numbers, workbook pages, and the blackline masters will not be affected. They will still match any unabridged version of the novel.
